Couples Therapy Does Work!
When You Know The New Science of Love

Knowing the new Science of Love will help you be successful in couples and relationship work. It will even help you improve your compassion for others and strengthen relationships in your own life. Imagine improving your therapy skill, having more success in treating couples AND getting happier in your own life all at the same time. We know from recent research (Levenson and Sandberg, 2010) attending an EFT Externship can do just that.

This is an official Externship, endorsed by the International Centre for Excellence in Emotionally Focused Therapy (ICEEFT). Attending this externship is the first step to being listed on the ICEEFT Therapist directory, where couples are going to find trained couple therapists. Attending this externship is also the first step towards becoming a certified EFT therapist. For further details about the certification process please refer to ICEEFT's Certification Page.

In this Externship, you will learn to:

- see marital distress from an attachment perspective
- help partners reprocess the emotional responses that maintain marital distress
- shape key new interaction and bonding events and,
- overcome therapeutic impasses.

You will also see EFT in action during live consultation sessions with real couples. The consultation sessions are always a big highlight.

Meet the Trainers:

Gail Palmer, MSW, RSW

Gail is one of the founding members of the Ottawa Couple and Family Institute and co-director of the International Centre for Excellence in Emotionally Focused Therapy and is Chair of the Education Committee. For over twenty years, Gail has trained and supervised therapists and students in Emotionally Focused Therapy and has conducted Externships, Core Skills Trainings and workshops on a number of EFT topics across Canada, the United States and Europe. Working with families is a particular interest to Gail and she has developed the application of the model to families with both presenting and writing on EFFT. She is co-author of Becoming an Emotionally Focused Couple Therapist: The Workbook.

Dr. Marlene Best, Ph.D., C. Psych

Dr. Marlene Best is a registered psychologist, ICEEFT Certified EFT Trainer and Supervisor. At the Ottawa Couple and Family Institute, she provides EFT therapy and supervision. Marlene is also a Clinical Professor at the School of Psychology at the University of Ottawa, where she provides clinical supervision to Ph.D. practicum students and interns who are learning EFT. She won the student-nominated award for excellence in clinical supervision in 2006. Marlene is known for her warmth and ability to create a very safe, open learning environment; her clear, structured teaching style; her interest in and attention to issues relating to self-of-therapist; her focus on therapeutic process skills; and, her ability to offer helpful encouraging feedback in a clear, empathic manner. Marlene teaches EFT externships, Core Skills and Advanced Workshops in Canada and the US.
